

It's Nixon-Humphrey, But Back Thinks GOP Should Make It Rocky

Gunnar Back, one of Escanaba's most distinguished sons in electronic communications, and his wife Mary are enjoying a brief vacation from his duties with WFRL-TV, Philadelphia these days as he visits the scenes of his Escanaba youth.

Back is visiting his sister, Miss Ellen Back, who runs the North Escanaba Postal Station, and his uncles, F. O. Back, Ludington St., a former grocerman, and Charles Back, Stephenson avenue, and his aunt, Mrs. Alma Johnson, Sheridan Rd.

"They're the American side of my family," he says. He has made a dozen trips to Finland to see the party of his family which didn't migrate to America.

His father was a Swede-Finn — "Finnish, of course, but from that part of Finland whose people talk Finnish. A professor at Bates College in Lewiston, Me., is doing a book on the Swede-Finn in America. It will include a chapter on my father's activities and I'm gathering some additional material." Back's father, John S. Back, who died 9 years ago, was an Escanaba insurance man who was one of the leading figures in Swedish-Finnish affairs in America.

Gunnar Back graduated from Escanaba High School in 1924. He looks back upon his summer work with the Escanaba Daily Press as an important part of his education. He worked in the Escanaba office and also handled the Press bureau at Manistiquette and Gladstone as a summer replacement.

Take Nothing Home
"I was still in high school and doing work for the old Escanaba Mirror when Ivy English was running it when I picked up the phone one afternoon and got an Associated Press call on the Loebe and Leopold case. It was the day they were arrested for killing Bobby Franks."

"Ivy was down the street and they began dictating the story to me and I was trying to take it when Ivy came and took over. 'Get out of here,' he said to me, 'I want to hear it all over again!'"

"Today, instead of newspaper cubs I'm exposed to kids who learn to handle film (for television) and when they're finished they think they're journalists, but they're nothing but technicians in one aspect of communications. They have no consuming curiosity about journalism; they never take a newspaper home."

Met Wife In Madison
When Back left Escanaba after high school he went to the University of Wisconsin, where he met his wife, Mary, a resident of Madison who now does feature writing for the Westchester Daily Local. He worked on the University radio station and was editor of the student daily, the Cardinal. After getting a master's degree he was a graduate instructor in English at the University and then went into radio work in Minneapolis in 1934.

He joined the CBS Network in Washington in 1939 and was

He joined the CBS Network in Washington in 1939 and was there for 17 years, then switched to ABC in Washington as its correspondent there. He's with Triangle (Annenberg) Stations now and is their senior correspondent for WFRL-TV in Philadelphia, doing political coverage and Washington news. Last summer he reported from overseas, did a Mass from St. Peter's Square in Rome by satellite for the institute of Cardinal Krol. He's also been to Vietnam to cover the war there.

Dick and Hubert
Back is seen on a half hour news program nightly and also moderates a weekly half hour news conference on a wide range of subjects. His hour's documentary on air pollution won four prizes and he just finished a new documentary on Mussolini.

Asked his view of the presidential contest, Back said "It looks as though Vice President Nixon and Vice President Humphrey are going to get the nominations. I saw Robert Kennedy a month before he was killed. I had worked with him on the Army-McCarthy hearings and I've known Gene McCarthy since he first came to Congress. I'm very fond of Humphrey and have covered him since he first came to the Senate."

Where Are The Perch?
"The Vietnam war was first an issue with McCarthy, but by last spring it had become a commitment. I couldn't let the people down," he said. This was new. McCarthy is salty; a great scholar of American government.

"I've always liked Humphrey but I've been against the Vietnam war for four years; ever since I got back from there. My own personal feeling is that the Republicans would be wise to nominate Nelson Rockefeller, but I don't think they will."

Back's education included teaching rural schools at Northland, Watson and Perkins and working in radio with Eric Sevareid, Elmer Davis and the late Edward Murrow. He has been much impressed on this trip with the provisions for visitors made by the Hiawatha National Forest, but he wonders where the perch fishing has gone?

Two Men Given 30-Day Terms In County Jail
Two men arrested by State Police Friday, were sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail today by Justice Ross Davis at Gladstone.

Patrick D. Gibbons, 21, of Rte. 3, Rapid River, and Harold E. Erickson, 20, of Casselton, N. D., each pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Troopers said Gibbons and Erickson had possession of stolen credit cards and also were driving a stolen car when arrested. Investigation is continuing.

Samoa Freighter Scuttled At Sea
PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — A dignified old ship, the interisland freighter Manua Tele, was towed out to sea and burned, for nonpayment of debts.

The ship was owned by natives of Manua Island north of here. But the old minesweeper was ordered auctioned off to satisfy a $9,000 debt to the U.S. government for repairs.

A sixth grade class in San Francisco made the only bid — $73.60.

Not enough, said the government. So the ship was stripped of salvage, towed eight miles to sea by a Coast Guard cutter and scuttled.

Marinette Boy Lost Off Boat

CHICAGO, Ill. — A Marinette, Wis., youth drowned Friday in Lake Michigan off Chicago when he fell from a trawler skimming alewives from the lake.

The boy, James Brown, 15, was standing on the stern of the trawler Pelican when workers on the boat saw him fall overboard. The boat turned immediately, authorities were told, but the boy had disappeared.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the Pelican, police and fire boats, another trawler, the Morning Star, and a fire department helicopter, as well as 40-foot Coast Guard craft, searched the area intensively for four hours before giving up.

Fire Dept. divers worked underneath the boats during that time in 30 feet of water without discovering any sign of the boy.

The Pelican is owned by Angwall-Dormer Co., Menominee, Mich., and captained by Robert Angwall of Marinette.

It has been in the Chicago area for the last three weeks, working as a team with the Morning Star in the state-federal water pollution control administration project. Dead alewives are being skimmed from the lake to keep them from floating ashore and rotting on beaches.

The Morning Star is owned by Charles LeClair, Two Rivers, Wis.

James was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Marinette. He would have been a sophomore at Marinette Central Catholic high school next September.

James was believed to have been a guest on the vessel. Coast Guard investigators said they had heard that a brother of the missing boy was employed on the trawler but were unable to confirm this because the vessel remained at the scene Friday afternoon, continuing the search.

Space Workshop For Teachers To Open On Monday
EAST LANSING (AP) — A non-technical aerospace workshop, aimed at elementary school teachers and administrators, opens Monday at Michigan State University with an address by one of the nation's top scientists.

The speaker, Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt, was selected in 1965 as a scientist-astronaut by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Schmitt's talk will deal with the specific mission of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., and the training which an astronaut undergoes as part of the program.

The workshop, which lasts through July 9, is designed to give participants information and materials which may be helpful in their classrooms.

Also scheduled to speak during the workshop is Jack Sorenson, director of aerospace education for Civil Air Patrol headquarters at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

Fire Towers Go On Sale
LANSING — Want to buy a fire tower?

The Conservation Dept. announces a bid sale, July 26, of 31 towers in northern Michigan. Minimum bid is $100, and bid forms are available from district offices, and from the Dept. of Administration, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing.

Once a key factor in forest fire detection in Michigan, the fire tower has been relegated to a minor role by the airplane. Sixteen planes now cover the state on forest fire patrol and except for a few remote points where air patrol is impractical, the tower has become obsolete.

Bids Too High On School Sign
The Escanaba Area High School which has been without an identification sign on its campus since it was built may have to wait a little longer.

After years of trying, agreement was reached this spring on a design for the sign, but bids opened this week by the school administration and Board of Education were more than double the funds available to finance construction.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said about $2,000 is available in a fund for treasuries of graduated classes. The student council at the high school this spring had asked the Board of Education to ask bids for the sign.

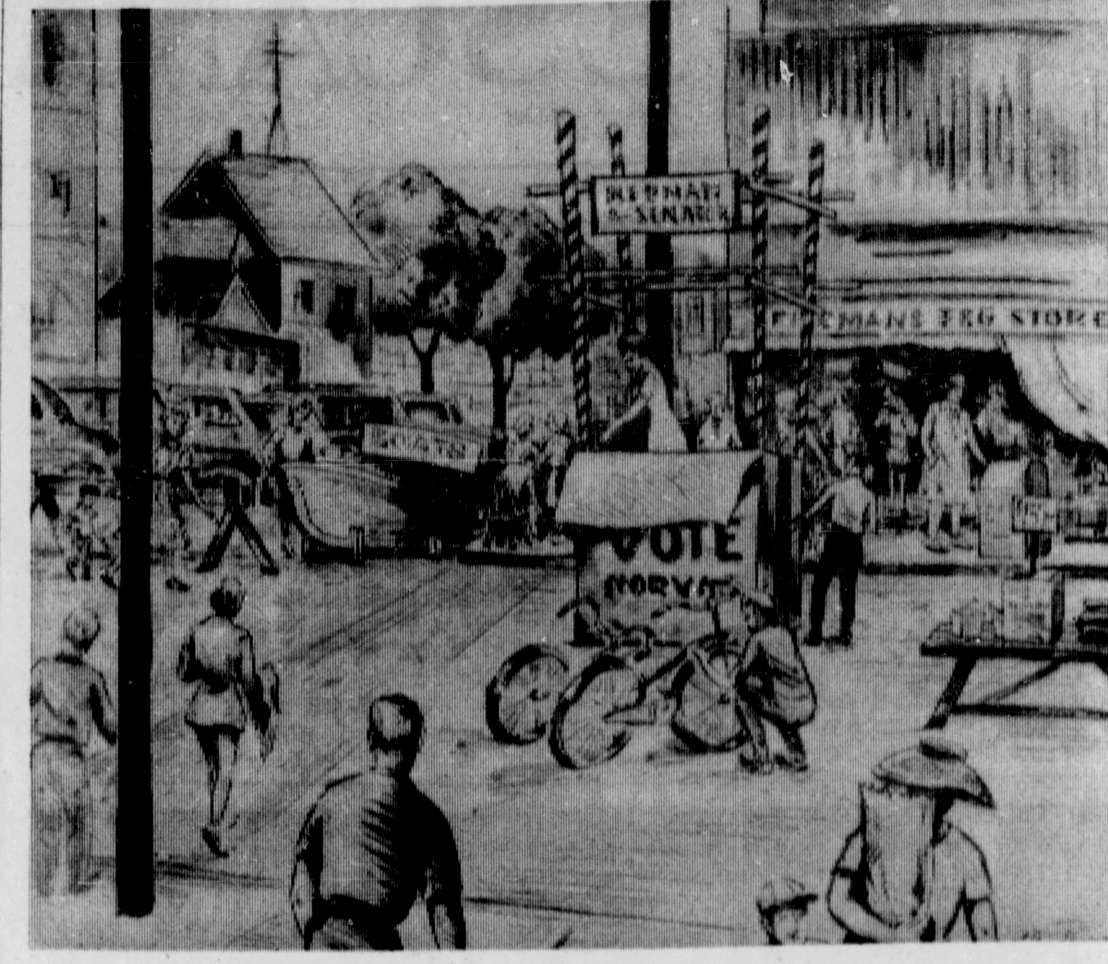

Two bids were received in the amounts of $4,855 and $5,465.

The sign, which was designed to match the school's architecture and be a permanent fixture on the campus, would be located in front of the school on S. 23rd St.

Since then he has worked in summer stock and has been cast in Escanaba Community Theater productions of "The Crucible," "The Music Man" and "Come Blow Your Horn." Adamini is an English instructor and director of theater at Escanaba High School.

Barred From Flying: Top Airline Pilot Lacked License

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man who worked his way up to a top pilot's job with a major airline before it was discovered he held only a private license has been barred from flying anything permanently.

The National Transportation Safety Board said Friday it had upheld earlier rulings in the case of Jimmie H. Lane, 35, and had closed the book on him.

The Federal Aviation Administration discovered early last March that Lane, then of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., had been flying as a pilot for Eastern Airlines since 1957 although he held only a private pilot's license. That license authorized him to fly only single-engine planes, and did not qualify him to carry passengers.

The FAA said Lane altered the certificate to make it resemble the card of an air transport pilot.

After attending Eastern's pilot training school, Lane advanced progressively during 11½ years to the command of the piston-engine Constellation and then the four-engine Electra propjet, into the $20,000-a-year salary class.

He flew the busy New York-Washington shuttle service regularly, and had a perfect safety record.

He was unmasked, finally by

Ray's Lawyer Building Case

Ray's American lawyer talked with him in prison today and said he got "names and other leads" to build a case for the defense of the accused assassin of Martin Luther King Jr.

Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., met with Ray for an hour in an interview room at Wandsworth Prison. Hanes said afterward he found the conditions somewhat restrictive.

British prison officials did not permit him an interview in confidence such as usually accorded a British lawyer, he said.

Hanes and Ray were separated by a glass screen. Hanes said that when he wanted to exchange something confidential with Ray he would either whisper or write or pass notes to him via a prison guard.

The Alabama lawyer said he was beginning to build his case and organize a defense for the day that Ray might be extradited by the British to stand trial for the murder of the American civil rights leader.

"Our meeting was most helpful, most fruitful and beneficial," Hanes said. "We got to know each other better. He is relaxed and feels good. He is perfectly rational, sane and lucid."

THIS IS THE SHAPE of things to come at Escanaba Paper Co.'s new paper mill. This supercalender, formerly considered a "giant" among such paper processing machines, is 19 feet wide and 32 feet high. The men at the paper web at bottom give an idea of its size. Appleton Machine

Co., at Appleton, Wis., has received orders from Mead Corp. to build two of the largest supercalenders ever built for the paper industry for Escanaba Paper Co., capable of processing a web of paper over 23 feet wide and standing over 40 feet high.

Largest Supercalenders Being Made For Escanaba

APPLETON, Wis.—An order to build two of the largest supercalenders ever for the paper industry, has been received here by Appleton Machine Co.

The order was announced by Appleton Machine President T. Agronin.

Agronin said, "The new,

twin supercalenders are for Mead Corp.'s Escanaba Paper Co. paper mill. Each will be able to process a web of paper

Pumps

Allis - Chalmers, Milwaukee, has obtained contracts to supply the main power distribution equipment and all stock pumps for a multi-million-dollar addition and modernization of the Mead Corp.'s Escanaba Paper Co. mill in Escanaba.

The electrical equipment includes motor control centers, switchgear, unit substations and outdoor power transformers.

The equipment is being supplied through the J. M. Foster Co., Birmingham, Ala., an Allis-Chalmers agent, with Rust Engineering Co., also of Birmingham, as designers and constructors of the addition.

GI Duty Tour Cut Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soldiers returning from Vietnam, Korea or other "short-tour" overseas areas soon will be eligible for up to five months early discharge.

The Army, announcing this Friday, said the new policy will go into effect Aug. 1. Present policy allows early release of up to 90 days.

The Army said "short-tour" areas are those where a man serves less than 18 months if accompanied by his family and less than 24 if he has his family along.

"In the past, the majority of individuals assigned to units in the United States, after their return from short-tour areas, have been with their units for too short a time to justify retention on active duty," the Army said in explaining the policy change.

The regulation, however, will not apply to soldiers returning to the United States with more than five months. This will give men serving in Vietnam or South Korea a chance to extend separation, the Army said.

The supercalenders, to be used with the new No. 3 paper machine being installed at the mill, will be over 40 feet high. In two hours these two supercalenders can process a web of paper 23 feet wide reaching from Appleton to Escanaba.

Appleton's supercalendering equipment will be part of Escanaba Paper Co.'s recently announced multimillion dollar expansion program, which will more than double the plant's production capacity.

Agronin also noted that his company has been keeping

Fred H. Hahne of Manistique has been re-elected chairman of the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency.

Other officials remaining are David Olive, Stephenson, vice-chairman; Edwin Wuehle, Manistique, secretary, and Adam Sinclair, Gladstone, treasurer.

The executive committee approved a preliminary budget of $88,734 for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1, 1968.

Included in the budget are funds for the Dental Program and for transportation for VISTA Volunteers.

Ray LaPorte, director, informed the board that three of the VISTA workers serving in the area during the past year will remain for another year, and that three new trainees have been assigned to the area. They are: Richard Strasma of Kankakee, Ill., and Jerry Abrams of Ventimore, N. J., who will work in the Manistique area, and Karen McHenka, Endwell, N. Y., assigned to the Daggett area.

LaPorte also reported that 22 persons are enrolled in the UAW-OJT Basic Education Training Program at 800 1st Ave. N., Escanaba.

Vietnam Ambush Kills Entertainers

were singing to themselves. "I thought I was hearing things. Then it came," Paula said, her hand twitching nervously.

"I was sitting in the middle of the front seat. The boy on my right was hit in the arm and when I realized that someone was shooting at us I remembered the advice someone gave me when I got here—whenever you hear a crack, duck!"

"I threw myself to the floorboards and as I did so I heard a splintering crash and something hit my back. Later I realized it was the shattering windshield that had hurt me," she said.

Bone, in a back seat, said the headlights picked out five or six people holding guns on the road ahead of them.

Two Boys Killed

"We stopped, or tried to, and the pickup ran off the road," he said. "We thought they were our soldiers firing at us in mistake. Three of us jumped out into the roadway and started shouting that we were Americans and for them to stop firing. They just stood there and fired at us point blank about five yards away."

"A bullet smashed into my hand and knocked me into the ditch. The two other boys were killed."

Also wounded at this time was a young Army sergeant who had volunteered to drive with the group to Vung Tau.

Paula said the guerrillas rummaged through the truck and the three survivors played dead. The guerrillas took wallets, ID cards and airplane tickets the men were carrying but did not touch Paula.

"Maybe they didn't see me," she said. "If they had I think they would have killed me, or at least stolen my jewelry."

"I wore a golden Star of David around my neck that my parents had given me. I would never have let them take that. Up to that moment I had not been very religious," Paula added.

School Lunch Decision Due

A decision on whether or not to resume the hot lunch program in the Escanaba Area public schools this fall may be reached Tuesday by the Board of Education.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett has asked the Board of Education to consider the matter of the hot lunch program at the board's regular meeting at 8 p.m. at the school administration building.

"If a decision is to be made to re-establish the program in some form, it should be made soon so that all necessary arrangements can be made by the time school opens," Barrett said.

The Board of Education discontinued the hot lunch program last fall in an economy move after defeat of a millage proposal.

Several alternatives are open for the Board to consider, including re-establishing the program on the same basis it was before institution of a "scaled down" program in an effort to balance costs with revenues, or letting bids on a hot lunch "concession" to a private concern.

The board also could elect to keep the program closed because of the present financial position of the district.

The Board Tuesday also is expected to discuss the amount of millage to be requested at the special election scheduled Aug. 19, and possibly make an appointment to the board to replace Wheaton Strom of Escanaba, who resigned last Monday with one year to serve on his four-year term.

Several other matters are listed for discussion and action on the agenda, including opening of bids for roof repairs at Cornell, Ford River, Pine Ridge, Soo Hill, Webster and Wells schools, and dancing at the high school.

A request to permit weekly dances in the high school commons area was tabled last month.

Two State Men Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan men were listed by the Defense Department Friday as killed in action in Vietnam.

They were Marine Cpl. Randall B. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil A. Little of River Rouge; and Army W.O. James D. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon C. Carter of Clarkston.

Carter had previously been listed as missing.

Study Fly Ash

HOUGHTON, Mich. (AP) — A group of Michigan Technological University students will spend this summer studying a 15-ton pile of fly ash in hopes of discovering recoverable minerals.

Clevenger Maps Campaign Plans

Ray Clevenger, former Congressman from the 11th District which includes the Upper Peninsula and seven counties in northern lower Michigan, Friday vowed a "hard driving campaign" in his bid to regain the Congressional seat he lost two years ago to Republican Phil Ruppe of Houghton.

Clevenger was in Escanaba Friday on what he termed a "swing through the district" to get advice from local Democratic party leaders in mapping his campaign in the primary against Jack English of Wakefield and Robert J. Turmala of Jacobsville.

The Sault Ste. Marie attorney said he had resigned his position as Commissioner of the Great Lakes Basin Commission, Ann Arbor, and had moved his family back to Sault Ste. Marie where he reopened his law office.

"I expect we'll have a fairly vigorous primary campaign," Clevenger smiled, explaining that his "hard driving" campaign probably will take the form of many miles in an automobile.

From Escanaba, he said he plans to attend the Caspian Jubilee celebration this weekend and visit other communities in the Upper Peninsula.

Clevenger said that the response to his candidacy so far has been "very good" and that he feels the primary election will boil down to a question of what person the Democrats feel will be the best candidate to oppose Ruppe in November.

Ruppe, he said, is a formidable person and will be difficult to defeat.

Clevenger said he has been doing a lot of "sole searching" in recent months.

"The events of the past three months — beginning with the negotiations for peace, the withdrawals of Gov. George Romney and President Johnson from the presidential race and the murders of Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy — have turned a lot of thinking around," Clevenger said.

The people are tired of strife, he said.

Clevenger said he expects a "Clevenger for Congress" committee to be organized in Delta County and that his first concern is "getting the nomination." If nominated, he said, then he'll worry about the November election.

Ending The War

As the effort to end the war increases and Vice President Humphrey moves away from the Johnson Administration's position on the conflict and Richard Nixon tries to change from a hawk to a dove without making it too obvious, the issue stays No. 1 in the presidential contest.

America is in the process of being told that it doesn't matter what the public thinks; that politicians and not popular thought control the nominating process in the national elections. The polls, of course, are trying to guess public opinion because they want their boy elected and both nominees can't be, but the process is devious and many shades of political opinion are coalesced in each party's stand so it doesn't represent any major bloc, but is conglomerate.

The word from Paris, where our representatives are meeting with those of North Vietnam, alternately holds forth suggestions that it will be a long time before there's meaningful exchange, and that maybe now the conferees are getting nearer to talking turkey.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam itself is a reminder of the deep difficulties of making a peace there. Newsweek Magazine's Saigon bureau chief, Joel Blocker, writes of the difficulties that would follow even an agreement in Paris on a cease fire or a peace, and no such desired actions are in sight there yet, and there seems no likelihood that there will be a major commitment before our November election.

In Saigon, the capital of South Vietnam, peace seems not so much a prospect as a threat, writes Blocker. The Vietnamese mental block against the coming peace that we are arranging without cooperation from our ally, is understandable, he suggests, in a country that has been at war for nearly a quarter century and which has come to accept armed rebellion as a way of life. There are powerful pressure groups in South Vietnam which don't want the war to end. A new class has been created there which thrives on war and on American spending in South Vietnam.

The Vietnamese press is hawkish — for the war — and the attitude of the country can be judged by the recent ouster of a minister who suggested that Saigon's only alternatives in dealing with the National Liberation Front (the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese) "was to kill them all or talk to them." And he added "killing them all is impossible."

So while the United States, without which the war in Vietnam would have collapsed long ago in a communist victory, prepares to wage peace, the South Vietnamese government and a lot of the leadership of the nation moves in the other direction, to bolster the war and keep a good thing going for those who are against peace.

Blocker says South Vietnam simply isn't ready for peace. The only moving force uniting the people is the American war and without it there wouldn't be a national purpose. While the U. S. uses all its influence to bring about peace, the only recent action of any significance by the Saigon government is the passage of a general mobilization law. It is not, apparently, so much a belated action reflecting our earlier effort to get Saigon to bear more of the war, but a part of a new resolve to keep the war going.

There must be some accommodation of the Viet Cong as the beginning of any effective peace in South Vietnam, but Saigon says that surrender of any territory, even briefly, would undermine the republic. They have been fighting for a decade now, aided by the most powerful military nation in the world, and large parts of South Vietnam are controlled by the communists.

If there's to be a peace it must be more realistic than the war has been.

Castro Star Fades

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK (NEA)—Fidel Castro, once the idol of the New Left, is no longer a revolutionary hero even to students in Latin America.

In Paris, West Berlin, Rome and New York, rioting students urged revolutionary action in the name of Trotsky, Mao Tse-tung and even Ho Chi Minh. Some remembered Che Guevara and long-forgotten anarchists like Bakunin and Nechayev.

In Communist Czechoslovakia and Poland, on the other hand, the students and intellectuals fighting for freedom cheered the American flag. Soviet writers, on trial for their liberal views, based their right to dissent on decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court.

But no one, East or West, remembered that Fidel Castro also considers himself a revolutionary "prophet." Even in Latin America, Cuba's bearded leader Maximo has become the forgotten man of the world revolution.

To remind the world that he still is in the revolutionary business, Castro recently issued a renewal call for guerrilla struggles in Latin America under the slogan, "Arms, money and teams of guerrillas to liberate Latin America."

But his call was ignored, primarily because Russia, for the moment at least, is more interested in profitable trade with the Latin-American capitalists than in world revolution.

As a result, the conflict between pro-Soviet and pro-Cuban Communists in the Western Hemisphere has become more intense.

The most striking examples of this are in Venezuela and Guatemala, where a handful of pro-Castro guerrillas have recently been expelled from the official pro-Russian Communist parties. Similar conflicts are now raging in Brazil, Nicaragua, Chile, the Dominican Republic and other Latin-American countries.

There is no doubt that Castro's eclipse is due to his quarrel with Moscow. The existence of his dictatorship depends on Russia's economic aid. But he believed that he could defy the Kremlin leaders, undermine their influence in Latin America and still get their help.

Castro has perhaps gone further than any other national Communist leader in exploiting for his own purposes the political possibilities opened up by Russia's break with Red China and the fragmentation of the Red monolith.

But the Russians were not frightened. They met Castro's challenge by applying a calculated measure of economic pressure. This found expression in the prolonged and tortuous negotiations over a new Soviet-Cuban trade agreement.

The Russians never made a secret of the fact that they consider economic aid primarily as a political weapon.

They finally agreed to a flow of aid and trade to Havana sufficient to preserve Moscow's role as the mainstay of Castro's regime, but not enough to meet Cuba's rapidly expanding needs.

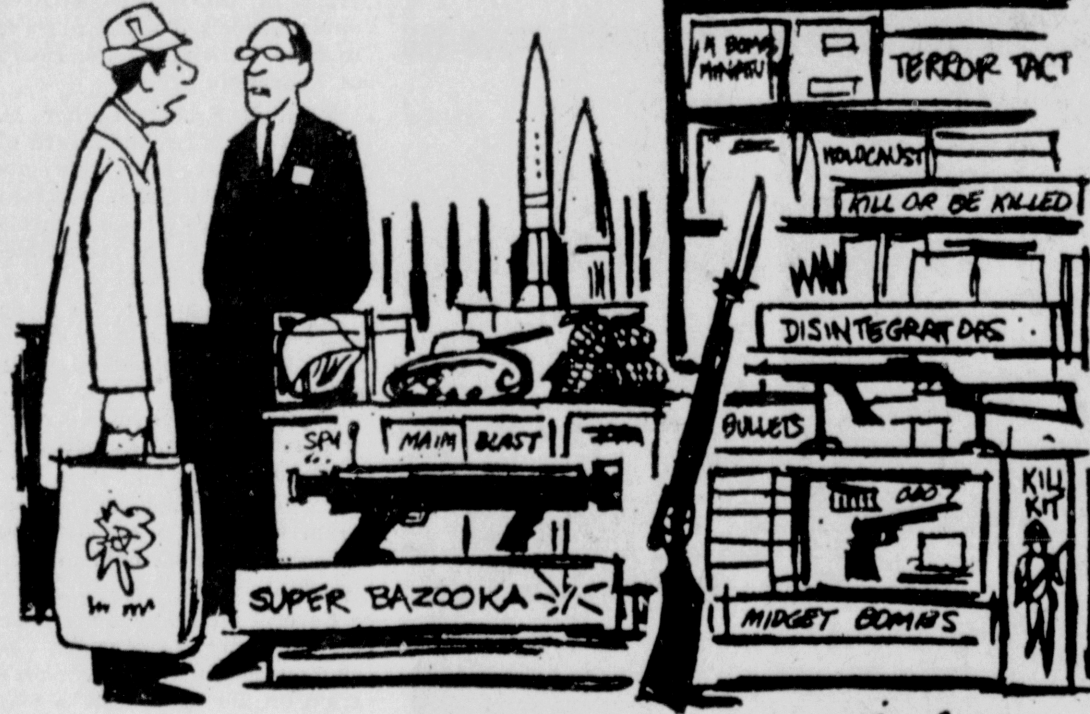

The Cubans must meet their growing economic problems with a series of belt-tightening austerity measures.

By applying economic pressure, the Russians obviously want to keep the Cuban dictator busy at home. But Castro is still fighting back. He is still trying to meet the Russian challenge through "political judo." Even the failure of Che Guevara's military adventure in Bolivia has not abated Cuban efforts to keep the pot boiling in Latin America.

But for the present, at least, Castro's star is in eclipse. Even revolutionary dictators must feed their hungry subjects.

Many Doubt Toy Guns Induce Child Violence

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Shortly after Robert Kennedy was assassinated a New York suburbanite marched into the room of his eight-year-old son, emptied the contents of a large toolbox, and inventoried the following items:

A sixgun and holster set.
Three "spy" revolvers.
A laser beam machine gun.
A time bomb.
Three rifles of various lengths.

A guerrilla fighting kit.
Four dozen rounds of plastic ammunition.
The father quickly removed the arsenal. And, while his son shrieked in despair, he emptied every last thing into an outside incinerator.

There is evidence that such reaction to "toys of violence" is growing these days. Reports from around the country indicate many parents and even some merchants have had second thoughts about the healthfulness of make-believe arms.

One storekeeper, E. O. Crawford of Ben Franklin Variety, Dallas, Tex., has announced he is removing all toy weapons from his stock in order to, as he put it to customers, "do my part to prevent violence and relieve my conscience."

Said he: "It means $1,200 a year in sales, but I feel I have to do something. I'm getting rid of everything from clicker pistols to BB guns. I'm not going to contribute to the delinquency of kids any more."

Crawford's actions, and the similar doings of other merchants, have met with mixed sentiments among consumers. But the shopowners insist that favorable response has outweighed unfavorable response.

Crawford is convinced that "parents buy gun toys only at the begging of their kids. And the kids only want the guns because they see them displayed. So, if I remove the display, I remove the temptation."

Such concern about toys of violence is nothing new. Store owners and toy manufacturers have received parental complaints during every Christmas season of memory. And "antiwar-toy" demonstrations are almost becoming a part of the scenery at the annual New York City Toy Show.

Moreover, it is apparent to some observers that the protests have had an effect. Frank Gavit of the Toy Manufacturers of America, has said: "I have no specific figures, but I think that toys of this type are not in the demand they once were. There is no big push for them any more."

A spokesman for Mattel, one of the toy industry giants, added this week that though the over-all Mattel line has grown considerably in recent years, "the sale of gun and war toys has only remained constant."

Another manufacturer, Deluxe Topper Toys, has almost completely dropped gun gimmicks as of late. Its sole remaining item is a skeet shooting outfit.

But just as the complaints against gun toys are not new in the nation, neither are the hints that such merchandise is dying out. Toy makers have been saying so for years, but there is in fact little evidence to that effect.

Today's toy shop arsenal is bigger than before. And, truth is, one out of every five toys sold in America this month will go "bang."

The reason for the continued high sales may have, in part, something to do with the reality that there are two sides to the gun toy question.

Many people are simply not convinced that a cap gun is a teething instrument for violence. They believe just the opposite, that a play gun is often good for a boy, that it may help "relieve aggressive tensions."

Over the years this optimistic view has received some solid, unquestionable support. Police, public figures and medical authorities have backed up toy gun sales.

In 1964 the Toy Institute surveyed 200 police chiefs, asking by post card whether the law officers felt "play with military toys is a contributing factor to adult violence." Twelve cops to one answered no.

Then the institute polled 250 random listings in Who's Who, asking if they had played with toys of violence as children. According to the toy officials, three to one replied that they had.

But the most impressive toy gun backing has come from medical authorities, many of whom have not hesitated to praise pistols as playthings.

Toy makers point especially to Dr. Benjamin Spock's baby book where the notorious anti-war leader has written, in effect, that hostility release and pretense of violence is even desirable among children.

And the Spock opinion is widely echoed. Recently, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. polled 20 nationally recognized child experts and pediatricians. Not one voiced any worry about gun toys.

Wallace State Swing Planned

FLINT (AP) — A campaigner for George Wallace says the former Alabama governor may make a swing through Michigan in August in his third party bid for the presidency.

Eugene L. Mattison of Flint, Michigan co-chairman of the American Independent Party, said plans are indefinite at this time and that dates and places of Wallace's expected trip cannot be revealed for security reasons.

Mattison said Wallace believes Michigan is a key state and is "up for grabs."

The American Independent Party in Michigan conducted a petition drive recently to get Wallace on the state ballot. Mattison said 32,000 signatures were collected while only about 13,000 were required. He said the Secretary of State's office has not yet certified them.

Lake Cargo Ore Ahead Of 1967

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Iron ore shipments handled by U.S. Great Lakes ports during June totaled 8,888,676 gross tons, compared with 8,934,223 in June, 1967, it was announced today.

Dr. Louise Ames, of the Gesell Institute of Child Development, said: "Personally, I wouldn't buy a toy gun for anyone, but then I'm the type that leans to books as gifts. But actually, it's a matter of taste, and I definitely don't think we can blame violence on water pistols."

Dr. Muriel Brown, of Stephen City, Va., who studies the relationship between toys and children, said: "I've never found any proof either way. And my personal belief is that a toy pistol in itself is not bad for a child."

Dr. Willis J. Potts, a "blue baby" researcher and author, said: "A child is no more apt to become an outlaw from playing with toy guns than he is to become a saint from playing with toy churches."

The consensus is explicit: those polled think gun toys harmless.

"I don't understand it," sighed famed pediatrician Dr. Milton Levine. "Why do we always try to see the child's world through adult eyes? What will parents do next, I wonder... confiscate all the Scout knives?"

Opening lead—♠ A

What do you do with the South cards? If you are the type player who does not bid at all with these 10 high card points you will pass throughout.

If you are the type who likes to compete when you have a good suit and aren't vulnerable you will overcall the opening one spade with some number of diamonds.

South liked to compete. In addition he and his partner were playing preemptive jump overalls so South jumped to three diamonds.

West's hike to four spades showed a good hand and North had enough to warrant raising his partner to five diamonds. North did not think that South would make this contract but he was sure that East would make his four spades.

At this point East decided to jam his nonvulnerable opponents. He didn't really think that he could bring home a spade slam. He was pretty sure that the defense would collect a diamond trick right off the bat and probably a club trick later on. East didn't really care. He was pretty sure that a six-spade call would bring out a seven-diamond bid by South.

Let's get back to the first paragraph. What would you do as South?

If you have looked at all the cards you will have seen that East is not going to make his contract. You wouldn't actually double since you aren't supposed to have seen the cards but you would pass and let East struggle.

If you haven't looked at all the cards you should still pass. You told your story when you bid three diamonds. Let your partner decide whether to pass or to take the save. He will have a tough problem but will probably pass on the theory that if East really thought he could make six spades East would not have jumped there but would have allowed himself to be pushed.

This last is academic. When this hand was played South went right to seven diamonds and paid off 900 points for going down five tricks doubled.

Ann Landers

Romance Felled By Toothpick No Loss

Dear Ann Landers: I will be 16 in three weeks. My problem is my father. He has said exactly three things to me in the last five years. Please don't think I am exaggerating because I can tell you what they were.

The day after Christmas in 1963 he said, "Get off your fat rump and clean up the house. Or do you plan to let the boxes and wrapping paper lie around till next year?"

On January 2, 1964 he said, "I don't care if it was our party. Clean up the house."

Three weeks ago he said, "Either get a haircut or roll it up. You look like a witch."

I have tried to start a conversation with him many times but he ignores me or talks to me through someone else. For example, if I say, "How come your sox don't match?" he'll say to my mother, "What is she bugging me about anyway?"

Please tell me how to deal with this problem. When I see other kids carry on conversations with their fathers I get very unhappy.—IGNORED

Dear Ignored: Accept the fact that your father is no communicator—probably never was and never will be. You are not going to change him so you'd better change your attitude. I feel sorry for a man who is walled off from his children that he can't even speak to them. And one day I hope you will understand how sad this is and that your resentment will turn to compassion.

Dear Ann Landers: I feel like I've been hit by a 10-ton truck. Please help me to understand what has happened to me.

Peter and I went together for nearly three years. We are not teenagers—far from it. So far as I know, he was completely faithful to me also. Last February he gave me a diamond. We planned to be married in August.

We've been apartment hunting and made honeymoon plans. I've been buying linens and china.

Last night after dinner I felt something caught between my two front teeth. I took a toothpick and tried to dislodge what must have been a piece of chicken. Peter suddenly jumped out of his chair and said, "The wedding is off! I could never marry a woman whose manners are so poor that she would use a toothpick in my presence."

He then launched into a tirade about my upbringing and how all of a sudden he saw me as I really am—uncouth, coarse, vulgar and "no lady!"

I burst into tears, handed him his ring and he left. Please help me understand. I am in a state of shock.—WILTED ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Dear Wilted: A romance that could be felled by a toothpick wasn't much in the first place. It should be obvious, even in your state of shock, that Peter used the toothpick episode as an excuse to crawl out of the commitment. Accept the fact that he lacks the maturity for marriage and consider yourself lucky to be rid of him.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage—What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

FCC Rule To Ban Race Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcasters who engage in racial discrimination will not be able to get their licenses renewed, under a new Federal Communications Commission policy.

The commission announced the new policy Friday and proposed at the same time a new rule under which broadcasters would be required to file with renewal applications a statement showing what they are doing to promote employment and programming aimed at minority groups.

A spokesman for the National Association of Broadcasters in Washington said the organization would have no comment until it could study the commission's notice.

The FCC estimated it would take four to six months to put the proposed rule into effect which would allow for filing of petitions by all interested parties and possible public hearings.

Henry Geller, FCC general counsel, said the new rule also would require broadcasters to post notices in their stations and to explain on employment applications that they are pledged not to discriminate against anyone on the basis of race.

The FCC said complaints a station is discriminating on the basis of race in programming and hiring will be referred to the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission or to the appropriate state fair employment group, whichever has jurisdiction.

Electricians Vote Anaconda Pact

MUSKEGON (AP) — Members of Local 983 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Friday voted to ratify a new contract with Anaconda Wire and Cable in Muskegon.

The 350 electricians have been on strike against the firm — a subsidiary of the Anaconda corp. — for more than 10 months.

The workers voted by a more than five-to-one ratio to accept the agreement, which was reached between the union and the company in Washington earlier this week.

Terms of the new pact were not revealed pending ratification votes at other Anaconda Wire and Cable plants.

Escape Try Fails

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank A. Phillips was in the prison ward of Los Angeles County Hospital when he slipped down a laundry chute—13 floors straight down to the basement floor.

Phillips, 29, suffered leg and back injuries in the fall Friday. Authorities said he was trying to escape while being treated for narcotics addiction during a robbery sentence.

conference-ending declaration and other documents for signature by the presidents.

Generally regarded as a success, the regional common market represents a move toward economic integration and self-sufficiency that Johnson would like to see duplicated throughout Latin America, in Africa and Asia. In fact, the major purpose of his trip seemed to be to help dramatize his dedication to such goals.

Rumor Extension

There was no firm word on when Johnson would return to Washington, although the White House said the current plan was to fly back immediately following the airport stop in Guatemala. That would mean a portal-to-portal July 4th holiday weekend journey of 5,900 miles. However, there were some rumors, totally unconfirmed, that the chief executive might extend his tour.

Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci Johnson Nugent were accompanying him.

Johnson spent much of Friday doing homework for his tour. He also took time out for an informal luncheon meeting at the LBJ Ranch, 75 miles north of San Antonio, with President Rene Barrientos of Bolivia. The South American president was in Texas for observance of Bolivian National Day at San Antonio's Hemis Fair world exposition.

Host Reception

The Johnsons will attend Roman Catholic Church services in San Salvador Sunday, appear before the staff of the U.S. Embassy, join the other presidents and their families for a countryside barbecue and act as hosts to the others at an evening reception.

Johnson's last trip south of the border was a brief visit to the Mexican border town of Ciudad Juarez, sister city of El Paso, Tex., last fall. John F. Kennedy was the last presidential visitor to Central America, meeting with the presidents of the five nations plus Panama in Costa Rica early in 1963.

Johnson's last trip out of the country was his worldwide tour in December which took him to Australia, Vietnam and Rome.

Chicago Strike Tension Eases

CHICAGO (AP) — Striking bus drivers agreed to meet today with Mayor Richard J. Daley, top officials of their union and the Chicago Transit Authority in efforts to end a dispute which has idled half the city's buses.

"I can assure you that we will be there to meet with those people," said a spokesman for the striking union dissidents who call themselves the Concerned Transit Workers.

A few hours earlier the strikers and union representatives had failed to appear at a similar meeting which Daley had called in his City Hall office Friday afternoon. Daley returned from a brief trip to Florida just before calling the meeting.

George L. Dement, CTA board chairman, and Thomas B. O'Connor, CTA general manager, were expected at today's session as was James J. Hill, president of Local 241, Amalgamated Transit Workers. Hill had refused previously to discuss the strikers' complaints with the dissidents until they returned to work.

The agreement Friday night was the first sign of a possible break in the wildcat walkout which began Tuesday morning on the South and West sides and spread to other sections of the city.

School Taking Registrations

Registration for adult high school completion courses are being accepted at the high school, according to Robert Richards, community-school director.

Classes will begin in September and will carry high school credit for persons working toward a diploma. Anyone is eligible to enroll in the program. A fee will be charged for those not working toward a diploma, except for recent high school graduates.

Any 1968 high school graduate interested in a class may take it as a review, Richards said. If the student has not previously taken a course for credit and the graduate is not yet 20 years of age there will be no charge. For example, a graduate who is not yet 20 years old who has never taken typing may do so without charge.

It is anticipated classes will run one night a week for 30 weeks. Students may elect from one to four courses. Possible offerings include business machines, typing, industrial arts, home economics, mathematics, public speaking, American history, civics, English and others if interest is shown.

Richards said registration should be completed as soon as possible as past records must be obtained. Interested persons may call GA 5-8341 or after 6 p.m. GA 5-4731.

Adult enrichment classes are expected to begin in October or November. Details will be announced later.

Straits Ferry Fleet Is Scattered And Forgotten

THE MICHIGAN STATE Highway Department auto ferry "Vacationland" is pictured when she was the flagship of the Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet plying between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City.

ST. IGNACE — Many a tourist whizzing by auto across the Mackinac Bridge wonders out loud what became of the fleet of ferries that once was the connecting link between Michigan's two peninsulas.

The answer is that four of the five are still afloat and in service, though only one is still on the Straits of Mackinac.

Thousands of miles from its original home is the mighty "Vacationland," the 350-foot queen of the fleet and once one of the two most powerful ships based on the Great Lakes.

Refurbished and re-christened "Sunshine Coast Queen," the ferry now is owned by the Department of Transportation of the Dominion of British Columbia. It went into service in Pacific waters this spring, carrying cars and passengers along British Columbia's Sechart Peninsula.

Until recently, the vessel was known as the "Pere Noel" and it churned back and forth across the Gulf of St. Lawrence in Quebec. It was kept busy, the nearest link being 185 miles to the west.

The other four ferries in the Straits fleet, operated by the Department of State Highways, were the "Straits of Mackinac."

Nigeria Peace Efforts Fail

LAGOS (AP) — Nigeria, a country of vast potential riches and the most populous nation in Africa, continues to wallow in a bloody, year-old civil war and efforts to arrange a cease-fire have so far been futile.

The federal government in Lagos holds the upper hand in the fighting and has occupied large chunks of the secessionist Eastern Region—Biafra—and most of the area's major cities. Both sides would like to end the conflict that has driven the country to the edge of ruin, created millions of refugees in Biafra and killed untold numbers of Nigerians.

But cease-fire negotiations in May broke down in disagreement over conditions. The Biafrans want an unconditional cease-fire and withdrawal of federal troops. Lagos wants assurances, before it withdraws its forces, that Biafra will rejoin the federation as three separate states.

Contacts are continuing and there is a possibility new talks may begin in London.

Air Board Meets

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Aeronautics Commission will meet July 10 near Rose City.

the "City of Munising," the "City of Petoskey" and the "City of Cheboygan."

All five went out of service Nov. 1, 1957, the day the $100-million Mackinac Bridge was opened to traffic.

About 13 million vehicles and 416 million people have crossed the bridge since its opening. That's a million more vehicles and 1.6 million more people than made the crossing in the 34 years the State operated the ferry fleet.

At its beginning in the summer of 1923, however, the "fleet" was nothing more than the little "Ariel," a river boat which had plied the Detroit River between Walkerville, Ont. and Detroit. Ferry service didn't reach its peak until the Vacationland came into service in 1952.

The ferry still cruising the same waters is the "Straits of Mackinac." A group of former ferry employees bought her from the state and formed Straits Transit, Inc., in 1959. It now carries passengers between Mackinaw City and Mackinac Island.

The "City of Munising" and "City of Cheboygan" moved to less glamorous duty at Washington Island, off the tip of Wisconsin's Door Peninsula in Lake Michigan. Edward H. Anderson, one of the Midwest's major potato growers and dealers, stores his island-grown crop in the two ferries, then has them towed to Benton Harbor, Mich., where the potatoes are processed for market during the winter.

Anderson named the "Cheboygan" after himself. The "Munising" is simply referred to as "No. 2."

The "City of Petoskey" no longer exists. It was sold in 1961, towed into Lake Erie and scrapped.

The men who ran the ferries are widely scattered. Nearly 400 Highway Department employees were working aboard the ferries, on the docks and in the ferry service warehouse when the fleet went out of business. Most employees who wanted to stay with the department were placed. Many, however, preferred resigning or retiring rather than having to move from the Straits area.

Patti Page Sees Singers' Return

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —I'm grateful for this opportunity to thank those of you who saw me on the Ed Sullivan Show, Music Hall and other television series and wrote how pleased you were that I had come out of retirement.

Appreciative as I am, I must make a confession. I did not retire—unless you call seven months on the road in night clubs and recording two albums and eight singles annually retirement.

It was the other way around. TV retired from me—and from such talented female singers as Rosie Clooney, Kay Starr, Jo Stafford, Polly Bergen and, to a lesser extent, Dinah Shore and Peggy Lee. These singers not only dominated the record industry's "charts" in the 1950's but television as well. Most of us had our own TV series. In fact, Dinah and I had our own shows for several seasons.

Became "Older Girls"

Then something awful happened. We became "older girls."

In an industry where everyone was suddenly competing to appeal to the "youth market," we were guilty of the most serious sin of all—having passed our 30th birthday. It seemed as though the only way to be seen on television, until last year, was to be a long-haired, short-skirted teenybopper who either gyrated with a guru or went "up, up and away" with the Rolling Stones.

The result, unfortunately, was that a lot of girls in micro-mini skirts were revealed to have micro-mini talents as well. Spirited away from the electronic sanctuary of a modern recording studio, and thrust before the TV cameras, they could do little but look sexy as they frugged and bugaloosed and desperately lip-synched their latest "hits."

Others, with marvelous potential, were pushed too far too fast. At a time when they should have been learning how to create that delicate rapport between performer and audience—which distinguishes adequate club singer from a star—they were being rushed from one TV guest spot to another.

Veterans Return

The teenyboppers still lead the big parade, but we're seeing more and more of the veterans.

Dinah Shore made several guest appearances last season. Viewers also saw more of Peggy Lee. And Ella Fitzgerald—who's the first to admit that miniskirts just don't come in her size—was one of TV's busiest, most ingratiating personalities.

Next year, I suspect, you'll hear even more from us 'older girls. I have always enjoyed television; I still do.

In the beard growing contest Robert White, 229 N. Fifth St., won for the best full beard; Don Martin, Elk St., won the best moustache award; and Tom Hoholik, Lake St., won the Baraga Beard Grower's Award.

Garden Avenue was well represented at Wednesday night's Log Sawing Contest as all the winners live on that street. Ronald Johnson, Bill Belleville, and George Shining were the top winners.

Local Churches Combine To Hold Early Services

An experiment in inter-church cooperation is about to get underway in Manistique providing more effective ministry to resident members and visitors during the summer.

The pastors and official boards of three Manistique churches—First Baptist, First United Methodist, and Church of the Redeemer (Presbyterian)—have approved a plan calling for joint worship services at 8 a. m. on the eight Sundays in July and August. This early service will be in addition to the regular Sunday Morning Worship at each of the three participating churches.

The plan calls for a "rotation" of locale for the service. On July 7 and 14 the 8 a. m. worship will be at the Church of the Redeemer. On the following two Sundays, July 21 and 28, the service will be the First United Methodist Church; and on the succeeding two Sundays, August 4 and 11, at First Baptist Church. Location of the final two services will be announced later.

The pastors who will participate in these services—the Rev. Roy Pitts of the First Baptist Church; the Rev. Theodore Doane of the First United Methodist Church; and the Rev. William Brauer of the Church of the Redeemer—have expressed the hope that, in this area with all its opportunities for outdoor activity, the addition of a summer early service will prove a benefit to families with children, and to vacationers. Rev. Brauer commented, "Our Session, and the Boards of the other two churches, frankly recognize that this is an 'experiment' for our community. To my knowledge this is the first time that this kind of cooperative service has been tried here. The actual response that we receive to it will, of course, determine whether such a plan might be tried again in future summers."

Resident members of the three churches who elect to participate in the early service will be able to bring their regular offering envelopes, which will be forwarded to the respective church treasurers. Others who so prefer can then attend the regular Sunday Morning Worship: at First Baptist Church and Church of the Redeemer at 11 a. m., while the First United Methodist Church moves to a summer time of 10 a. m.

Johnson Sought For Car Theft

A warrant has been issued by Prosecuting Attorney Gottfrid S. Johnson for Robert Johnson, 32, charging him with larceny by conversion, the Michigan State Police report. Lawrence McPhee of Garden told the state police that he had loaned his 1968 Buick automobile to Johnson on July 3 and the car was not returned. License number of the sought auto is UF-9433. Johnson has been living in Manistique only a short time.

At 8:13 p.m. Sinclair pulled out onto U.S.-2 from the Valley Nursery driveway and into the path of an auto driven by Mrs. Bertha Davis, 63, of 209 N. First St., Manistique. The Davis auto struck the Sinclair vehicle which kept going at a high rate of speed. A few miles down the road Sinclair lost control of his auto and it left the roadway, skidded across to the left side of the road and struck a tree. Unfortunately for Sinclair, a state police on patrol witnessed the second accident and promptly ticketed him for driving under the influence of intoxicating beverages and failure to stop and report a property damage accident.

Pauline Sisters Get New Home

The Sisters of St. Paul, diocesan teaching and nursing order, will have an open house for all, at their new Provincial House and Novitiate, near Marquette, July 14, following 2 p.m. ceremonies by Bishop Charles A. Salata, D.D.

In the new home the Order has built, four miles from downtown Marquette on County Road 492, the Sisters of St. Paul de Chartres can train girls to staff St. William's School, Menominee; The Bishop Noa Home for Senior Citizens, Escanaba; and St. Christopher's School, Marquette. Mother Charles, provincial superior, invites the public to the open house.

Mother Gabrielle and Mother Renee, from Rome, will represent the generalate of the 272-year-old order at the ceremonies.

The Sisters of St. Paul are found around the world, but they have been in the Upper Peninsula, their only U.S. Province, for only five years. First quartered in the old Holy Family Home, Marquette, they were moved in April, 1966, to make way for use of the big building in the "War on Poverty" training programs.

Two years later, 14 sisters moved into their new home. Between times, the novitiate was in the old St. John's Convent, in Ishpeming, and the provincial headquarters in the old Green Building, now demolished, in Marquette.

Berners, Schober & Kilp, Green Bay, were the architects for the new "house," near Morgan Heights Sanatorium. The building has room for 22 nuns, classrooms, recreation space, and a garage.

After a brief postulancy, the girls enter a two-year period as novices. Studies may include classes at Northern Michigan University.

Erickson Wins Feature Before Largest Crowd

The largest crowd of the year, 2,700 saw some of the finest races of the year at the Dickinson County Fairgrounds in Norway Friday night.

The best race of the night was in the 40 lap modified feature, Jerry Richer of Schaffer took the lead on lap 5, and looked like he was headed for an easy win. But, on the 31st lap, Wayne Erickson of Milwaukee, the number one driver at the Cedarburg Raceway, and rated in the top 10 at Slinger, Hales Corner, and Beaver Dam, closed the gap. With 3 laps to go, Erickson powered his modified past Richer for the victory.

Heat wins for modified were picked up by Joe Wurth of Menominee and Wes Becket of Soo, Canada.

Jim Beauchamp, Sr., of Kingsford, moved out to a lead on the second lap of the 30 lap sportsman feature and held off the challenge of the other 15 drivers for the victory.

Beaver Alleve of Kingsford was the only double winner for the evening, winning the second heat and then came back to capture the feature. Jerry Bichel of Nadeau captured the first heat.

Fastest Qualifier, Larry DuFord, Kingsford, 23.84.

Corriveau hit a towering home run over the rightfield fence in the third inning.

Bill McGovern handled the pitching chores for the Merchants and went all the way to get the victory. Bill Bertucci was charged with the defeat. McGovern scattered seven hits, one a long triple to left field off the bat of Peterson's catcher Dan Fleury. Goodreau had three hits for the Merchants and John Martinac added two.

In the nightcap, Blue Lake Tire of Negaunee upended Flat Rock, 5-2. Blue Lake Tire scored two runs in the first inning and added single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Gerald Reikki had three hits for the winners.

Doug Wilder got credit for the victory for Blue Lake Tire as he went the distance and struck out seven Flat Rock batters. Billy Smith took the loss.

Cardinals Trip Pirates On Twelfth Inning Single

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds came up with some late-inning lightning Friday night but the thunder belonged to the Houston Astros. And when the day's schedule was over it looked as though an earthquake had struck the National League standings.

The league-leading Cards tied the score with two out in the ninth inning, then edged San Francisco 4-3 on Tim McCarver's run-scoring single in the 12th.

A two-run double by Lee May in the 12th gave the Reds a 2-0 triumph over Los Angeles. And the light-hitting Astros exploded for five runs with two out in the ninth and outslugged Atlanta 13-9.

In another night game, Chris Short and the Philadelphia Phillies polished off the New York Mets 3-1. Bob Veale spun a two-hitter as Pittsburgh downed the Chicago Cubs 4-0 in an afternoon contest.

St. Louis' come-from-behind victory increased the Cards' lead to nine games over Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, tied for fourth starting the day but now in a virtual deadlock for second. They leaped over the Braves and Giants, each 9 1/2 games back.

Philadelphia moved into sixth place, 11 games out, while the Dodgers dropped to seventh, 12 back. The Mets, Cubs and Astros remained eighth, ninth and 10th, respectively.

Ninth-inning singles by Ed Spezio, Julian Javier and Curt

Flood enabled the Cardinals to send the game into extra innings.

Flood opened the 12th with a single off Joe Gibbon. After Orlando Cepeda forced him, Mike Shannon doubled Cepeda to third and McCarver, who had failed twice in bases-loaded situations, punched a single to left.

The Giants took a 3-0 lead in the sixth on Willie McCovey's sacrifice fly and Jim Hart's two-run homer. But the Cards got two runs back in the seventh on Jim Davenport's three-base throwing error.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and George Culver of Cincinnati traded five-hit shutouts through 10 innings but both had left for pinch hitters when May doubled off Don Sutton in the 12th after Tony Perez singled and stole second and Johnny Bench was purposely passed.

Atlanta reliever Claude Raymond, who scored an unearned run in the seventh that gave the Braves a 9-8 lead, retired the first two Houston batters in the ninth before the roof fell in.

Hector Torres singled, Rusty Staub walked and Jim Wynn singled home the tying run. Denis Menke, traded from Atlanta to Houston last winter, then slugged his second homer of the season and Doug Rader followed with his third round-tripper.

Veale, a towering left-hander, retired 22 straight batters from the first to the eighth innings as the Pirates beat the Cubs for their 18th win in 24 games in a surge that has carried them from last place less than a month ago.

They scored all their runs in the fifth on Donn Clendenon's RBI single, Bill Mazerowski's two-run double and a single by Maury Wills.

Short fired a five-hitter, struck out 11 and started a two-run rally with a sixth-inning single as the Phillies topped the Mets. Tom Seaver had held the Phils hitless until Richie Allen tripled to open the fifth and scored on Tony Taylor's sacrifice fly.

Lakers Trade 3 For Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

Wilt Chamberlain, the Philadelphia 76ers' brilliant but stormy center who fashioned the dunk shot into a modern-day sports legend, has been traded to the Los Angeles Lakers for three players and cash, the Associated Press has learned.

Chamberlain, greatest offensive player in National Basketball Association history, was dealt to the West Coast team for center Darrall Inghoff, guard Archie Clark and forward Jerry Chambers. The amount of cash involved was not disclosed.

It also was learned Friday that Jack Ramsay, 76ers' general manager for three years, was chosen as the new coach to fill the post vacated by Alex Hannum. Hannum, only coach to lead the team to an NBA title, resigned recently to go with the Oakland club of the rival American Basketball Association.

While the Lakers hope to mold a championship team out of a covey of superstars—Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Chamberlain—the 76ers received a solid guard in Clark, a sturdy defensive center in Inghoff and a potentially-good forward in Chambers.

Clark, 26, in his third year, is a superb backcourt man known for his speed and scoring ability. He is acknowledged by some to be the quickest guard in the NBA.

Inghoff, 29, though not a great shooter, is a stout defensive center who grabs about 1,000 rebounds a year. He is an eight-year veteran.

Chambers, 24, in his second year, is known for his good eye from the field and foul line.

The trade was expected to be announced next Monday or Tuesday. But Chamberlain, contacted in San Francisco Friday night by the Los Angeles Times, said there will be announcement concerning him on either of those days because he hopes to meet with 76er owner Irv Kosloff at that time and "wind up my business or settle it with the 76ers."

pair of three run homers Friday night to pace the Tigers to an 8-5 over the Oakland A's but he was still steaming about a pitch that hit him on the right shoulder in the fourth inning.

"I'm not trying to start a fuss, but I think it is about time something was done to protect the hitters," he said.

Freehan's two home run blasts raised his season total to 14 and brought to five the number of round trippers he hit during the Tigers' current five game winning streak.

"I thank God that the pitch did not hit me on the head for I have some kiddies who want to see their daddy come home at night," said Freehan.

"I'm not saying Catfish (A's pitcher Jim Hunter) threw at me deliberately," he said, "I talked with (Umpire Cal) Drummond about it later in the game and he said the A's were trying to pitch to me high and inside and that the pitch got away and bounced off my shoulder."

It marked the 12th time this season that Freehan was hit and he said wryly, "I don't equal last season when I was hit 20 times."

Freehan said, "I don't know why I have been hit so often but I do think it is strange to see a fellow hit one or two home runs and then get hit."

The Tiger's catcher urged that umpires adopt a tougher attitude towards pitchers. "I think there ought to be an immediate fine, not $50 or so, but $500 imposed right on the spot on a pitcher who throws at a batter."

"I have been catching quite a while and I know that pitchers sometimes get mad and try to shake a batter a little loose from the plate, but I am absolutely opposed to throwing at a batter's head," Freehan said.

"My view is that if the umpires do not fine these pitchers, the players are going to take things into their own hands. Some day a batter who has been hit will get real irritated and go out and hit a pitcher with a bat," Freehan said.

"I don't agree that deliberately throwing at batters is a way of baseball life," he added.

Freehan said the threat of being hit by a pitcher bothers most hitters. "But if you get shy and don't stay right in there at the plate you will never get a hit and you might as well go out and buy yourself a shovel and get a job as a ditch digger or something," the hard-hitting receiver said.

Freehan noted there was earlier fuss this year between the Tigers and A's over a couple of hit batsmen but he added, "Neither I nor anyone else on the Tigers has anything against the A's."

The Tigers sent Earl Wilson (6-5) against the A's in a televised second game of the series today with Chuck Dobson (5-8) due for Oakland.

Freehan's two homers last night carried well over 400 feet into the left centerfield stands. The first came off loser Jim Hunter (6-7) and the second off relief pitcher Ken Sanders.

The rain-delayed game had barely got underway before Dick McAuliffe and Mickey Stanley opened the Tigers first with back-to-back singles. Jim Northrup fouled out but Norm Cash singled McAuliffe home. Freehan then hit his first three run blast of the night and the Tigers were off and running with a 4-0 lead.

Mickey Lolich (7-4) pitched hitless ball until Reggie Jackson greeted him with a homer, his 11th, to lead off the A's third.

Don Wert singled home a run in the fourth and the Tigers got their final three runs in the fifth as Freehan delivered after Northrup had doubled and Willie Horton had walked.

Lolich, who had an 8-1 lead, ran into real trouble in the sixth as Dan Cater hit a three-run homer. An error and a single by Joe Rudi with one out then brought relief pitcher Pat Dobson in. He walked Rock Monday to load the bases but then struck out the next two men.

Dobson yielded the A's final run in the ninth and got credit for the save.

Trevino Holds One Stroke Lead Over Boros In Open

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP)

Lee Trevino, the 28-year-old super sensation of the PGA circuit, and late-blooming veteran Julius Boros were the front runners going into today's third round of the $125,000 Buick Open at Warwick Hills.

Trevino, who gained fame with his victory in the U.S. Open, shot a four-under-par 68 over the 7,001-yard, par 72 course Friday to move him to the lead after two rounds.

Added to his 70 in the first round, his 138 total score gave him a one-stroke lead over the 47-year-old Boros.

Steady with his long game and putting with a new club, Boros carved a 69 out of Warwick. Boros needed 30 putts in each round. He said he changed putters after the Cleveland Open, where he finished way off pace last week.

"When you get a little desperate you'll try anything," said Boros. "I guess the best part of my game is driving and the long irons. But putting makes the difference. It doesn't seem to make any difference whether it's a long course or a short course, I shoot about the same."

Trevino, who made the turn at 33, three under par, with the help of an eagle on the par 5, 491-yard 13th hole, was charged when asked at what point his game had improved since he won the U.S. Open.

"I've always played this well," said Trevino, a Mexican-American from Texas. "When I played in Texas, I had a plus five handicap. That means no matter what the other guy shot, I had to give him five strokes."

Turning more serious, Trevino said the large galleries he has attracted since he won the Open have added to his game.

"You miss and everyone says, 'Look at his form, look at his form,'" Trevino said.

At least 3,000 of the record weekday 23,000 crowd that showed up Friday were following Trevino. The gallery has become known as "Lee's Fleas."

"I really enjoy them," said Trevino, "but they aren't very thoughtful toward the other players. As soon as I putt out, they start changing toward the next hole and don't give the other fellows a chance to finish."

Two strokes off the pace at 140 were Tom Weiskopf, the second leading money winner on the PGA tour; Fred Marti of Baytown, Tex., and 25-year-old John Stevens of Wichita, Kan.

ROD FUNSETH, left, of San Jose, Calif., smiles as he has Masters champion Bob Goalby check his card after he posted a low 68 in the Buick Tournament in Grand Blanc Thursday. Marti was six under when a severe weather warning caused a half-hour halt in play late in the day. He came back and bogied the 16th and 17th holes to wind up with a 70.

"I'm not saying it was the delay," but I didn't play well afterwards," said Marti. "But I hope it was the delay and not me."

Don Finsterwald, had one of two holes-in-one during the round. Mason Rudolph had nines of 31, tying a course record jointly held by Don Fairfield of Palm Springs, Calif., and Cary Middlecoff.

Finsterwald, who had one of four eagles recorded on the par 5, 491-yard 13th hole, aced the 191-yard, par 3 11th hole with a four-iron. Rudolph changed balls after shooting a 37 on the first nine and hit six birdies, five in a row, to get his 31.

"I added 20 yards to my drive in changing balls," said Rudolph.

Henrich Named Batting Coach

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Tommy Henrich, onetime clutch hitter for the New York Yankees, has been named minor league batting coach for the Kansas Royals.

Officials said Henrich will work primarily with the American League 1969 expansion club's Class A farm club in Corning, N.Y.

Roger Van Dyke, 27, head pro at nearby Flint Golf Club, had the other ace with a five iron on the 185-yard, 17th hole. It was his third career hole-in-one and his second in eight days. He failed to make the 148-cut-off score, turning in a 157 for the two rounds.

Under the new 10-shot PGA rule, 85 players, the most of any tournament this year, made the cut. The rule, used for the first time this year, provides that player within 10 strokes of the leader makes the cut. The old rule provided that the top 70 low scorers plus ties made the cut. Monty Kaser, of Wichita, turned in the best round of the day with a six-under-par 66. Combined with his 79 on Thursday he made the cut at 145.

Pension Demand Stopping Owner, Player Settlement

By The Associated Press

Only one demand seems to be preventing settlement of the feud between the National Football League Players Association and NFL club owners.

After days of rumors, NFL players Friday, for the first time openly, threatened to strike unless their demands for a pension plan are met.

John Gordy, all-pro offensive guard with the Detroit Lions and players association president, said in a statement, "As long as the owners refuse to resolve the pension problems, we have no choice but to take appropriate action."

Another players' spokesman said appropriate action meant a strike.

Howard Mudd of the San Francisco 49ers, said, "The offer on the owners' part is not satisfactory. Our demand is not unreasonable."

Mudd spoke to Don Yehl of the Midland, Mich., Daily News in a telephone interview from his home in Redwood City, Calif. Mudd played prep football in Midland.

He said professional baseball players currently get $1,100 monthly at age 65 while NFL players with at least five years of experience are given $450.

Gordy and others who met last weekend at Detroit with owners' representatives reportedly asked for contributions of $100,000 from each of the 16 NFL clubs to swell the pension account. The figure was reportedly too high for the owners.

However, Mudd was optimistic about a settlement of the dispute. "The end is in sight," he said.

His 49ers hope to open their rookie camp next week. Other teams have scheduled later opening dates.

Vince Lombardi, general manager of the Green Bay Packers, said Friday night in a television interview in Green Bay he hopes personal discipline will dissuade NFL players from a strike which could keep summer training camps idle.

It was Lombardi's first public comment on the salary and pension talks since they began.

Lombardi said owners have agreed to 21 of 22 demands of the players.

A Packers' players spokesman said players would not report to training camp July 10 unless all demands are met.

Meanwhile, Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, suggested the NFL consider suspending operations this year because of the threatened strike.

Rosenbloom told the Baltimore Evening Sun that if the league suspended operation for one year, the players "would realize what they are missing."

Bob Lurtsema, a starting defensive tackle with the New York Giants, told the Midland Daily News Friday that three of the four major demands had been met, with the exception being the pension issue.

Lurtsema, who works during the off season in Midland, said a settlement has been reached whereby second year men will receive a minimum salary of $12,000 and third year men $13,000.

There are no announced meetings between players and owners in efforts to solve the pension squabble. Owners reportedly do not oppose the idea of a pension plan, but the amount of money involved is in dispute.

Driver Psyche

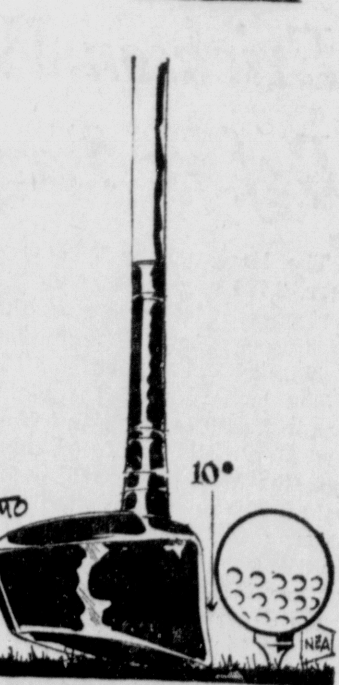

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

On the average par-four hole, which constitutes the bulk of a golf course, all shot-making starts with a wood, generally the driver, off the tee.

Helping the ball in the air is the big hangup with most players. I've never conquered it completely myself. I use a small driver with a lot of loft—13 degrees (against 9 or 10 degrees for most pros). Only days and hours of practice lick the fear of dribbling the ball.

I try to help people with the following rationale: The manufacturers of golf clubs have been in business a lot longer than we've been playing golf. They have engineers and precision machines. They construct clubs to do the work for you. You don't have to fall back and get in under the ball to help it up into the air. If you take the same swing with a driver that you do with a seven-iron, which has a lot of loft, the club will get the ball airborne.

If you've got a fear of using a straight-faced club like a driver, my advice is forget it. Take a two-wood or a three-wood. I do it myself. On the Masters course this year, I used a four-wood off the tee on the second hole and a three-wood on the third hole. I get as good results with those clubs as I do with a driver. Maybe the shots aren't as long but they get me in good position on the fairway.

However, shooting into the wind, I revert to a driver to keep the ball low. I've even used a driver on the fairway because mine happens to be small and it's like adding an extra club to my bag. But I wouldn't advocate this for anybody but the very advanced player.

Humphrey Gains State Trooper Delegates

LANSING (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is gaining support among Michigan Democratic national convention delegates and now can expect nearly two-thirds of the state's 96 presidential votes, an Associated Press poll revealed.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., will receive six votes, the poll disclosed, while nearly one-fourth remain uncommitted. Here is how the tabulation breaks down:

Hubert H. Humphrey 63
Uncommitted 25
Eugene McCarthy 6
John Glenn 1
Edward M. Kennedy 1
Humphrey's total represents an increase of 25 votes over an AP poll conducted two weeks ago.

McCarthy Up One
Despite a personal appearance before the delegation last Sunday, McCarthy increased his total by only one vote over the previous poll.

Most of Humphrey's increase can be attributed to McCarthy's visit. One previously uncommitted delegate, who asked not to be named, said, "I think McCarthy really dug his grave Sunday with the Michigan delegation." The delegate added he now favors Humphrey.

During his closed door visit with delegates, McCarthy said that he could conceivably support Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York for president under certain conditions.

Uncommitted Wait
Most of the uncommitted delegates say they are waiting for further developments before deciding whom to support.

"I'm really ambivalent at the moment," said Albert Wheeler of Ann Arbor. Wheeler explained that Humphrey stresses civil rights and poverty, and downgrades the Vietnam war. McCarthy, however, emphasizes the war and tends to down-

Electrician Strike Halts Building In Canadian Sault
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — Hopes for an early return to work by 80 Sault Ste. Marie electricians—whose strike has kept the city's construction industry at a standstill for two months—have disappeared.

A spokesman for the men's union local said Friday they have voted to continue the strike until a new working agreement is signed.

Local 1687 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers last week agreed to hold talks with contractors. It was also agreed the men would return to work Monday and stay on the job while the talks continued.

But the business agent for the local, Lou Popovich, said Friday the men turned down the proposal and will not work without a contract. Talks will, however, be held on Monday as scheduled.

Hudson's Opening New Detroit Store
DETROIT — A great new store will come to life with an elegant flourish July 15. On that night the J. L. Hudson Co. will throw a private black tie preview party for 250 couples to show off its latest department store confection on 14 Mile Road at I-75. The store will open to the public July 22.

The event will benefit Oakland University's Meadow Brook Music Festival. After cocktails and a reception in the store's West Court guests will dine overhead on a balcony with view of fountains and flowers below.

Later, Duke Ellington and his orchestra will give a concert for the guests at the entrance to the center's 750 foot long enclosed mall and Detroit Symphony Orchestra conductor Sixten Ehrling will accompany his orchestra's concertmaster, violinist Mischa Mischakoff.

State Trooper Changes Made

play poverty and civil rights, Wheeler added. For that reason, he said, he had not made up his mind.

Mum On Choice
A few delegates list themselves, as uncommitted but say their minds are made up but that they refuse to divulge their choices.

Former astronaut John Glenn and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., each received the support of one delegate.

The Glenn backer said he would soon call a few other delegates and try to drum up support for his candidate.

Michigan sends 102 persons to the Democratic national convention at Chicago in August. The delegation casts 96 votes. Each delegate gets 94-100 vote, while the national committeeman and committeewoman each receive one vote.

Emergency Relief
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Jaycees in Grand Rapids have formed what they call their "Cut and Chop" division, an emergency relief team which could bring at least 50 men within an hour's notice to help clean up following a major disaster. The unit would operate under the direction of Civil Defense.

Seaway Tie-Up Costly To Canadian Economy

TORONTO (AP) — With the strike of Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority workers now in its third week, directors of the nation's Great Lakes ports are beginning to talk in terms of disaster if the strike is prolonged.

It is not entirely a question of lost revenue, but concern that foreign shipping men think the strike is giving new life to Montreal, unaffected by the walkout, and reminding foreign lines that cargo can be deposited there and the ships moved quickly back to sea — without tolls.

More than 70 foreign flag vessels have been trapped by the strike. The situation has also taken most of Canada's Great Lakes fleet of 200 inland vessels out of operation.

$500,000 A Day
The cost to Canada's economy is not precisely known, but is estimated at $500,000 a day.

Income Tax Foes' Petition Drive Is Short Of Signers

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A statewide petition drive to have a constitutional amendment voiding provisions for a state income tax put on the November ballot appears to be faltering.

L. Montgomery Shepard of Benton Harbor, head of the Sound Taxation Association, one of three groups circulating the petitions, said 155,000 signatures have been obtained, 95,000 short of the necessary 250,000 required by the Monday deadline.

Shepard said that unless there is a "sudden influx of completed petitions" the deadline might not be reached.

Other groups circulating petitions are the United Republicans of Michigan, working out of Detroit, and the Oakland County Conservative Club.

A suit now in the Court of Appeals at Lansing questions the legality of the tax and Shepard said his hopes of having the tax nullified rests on the outcome of the court case.

Grant For U.P.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a $31,000 grant to the Gogebic-Ontonagon Community Action Agency in Bessemer. The grant is to aid services for the aged.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police have announced the retirement of a lieutenant with nearly 27 years of service, five promotions and three new assignments of troopers.

Retiring is Lt. Adolph M. Ploehn, of the Field Inspection Section of the Bureau of Field Services, East Lansing Headquarters. Staff Sgt. Mario E. Formolo, Brighton Post Commander, will be promoted to Lieutenant to succeed Ploehn at East Lansing.

Other promotions include: Sgt. Raymond A. Dedenbach, Lapeer Post Commander, to staff sergeant and assigned to command at Brighton; Cpl. Charles A. Clark, Pontiac, to sergeant and transferred to command at Lapeer;

Trooper Door N. Wiltse Jr., Ionia, to corporal and assigned to Pontiac; Detective George L. Hein, to detective sergeant and retained at his present position in the Latent Print Unit of the Detective Division, East Lansing.

Transfers include: Trooper Timothy F. Dempsey, from Blissfield to Battle Creek; Trooper Gerald H. Moeggenborg, from East Lansing to Ionia; Marvin H. Bendickson, who left the department last year, reinstated as a trooper and assigned to New Buffalo.

U.S. Prepares Ban On Synthetic Marijuana Drug
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government, concerned about the appearance of a newly developed synthetic marijuana, will publish new regulations shortly which will make it a crime to sell the substance, a narcotics official said today.

He said, however, no illicit traffic in the substance has thus far been found in this country.

The substance is called tetrahydrocannabinol, known as THC. It was synthesized first by an Israeli scientist.

An official at the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs said the government will make public possibly next week a regulation which would bring the substance under the provisions of the Drug Abuse Control Act of 1965. This law controls LSD and certain other hallucinogenic drugs.

The law makes it a crime to possess such drugs with intent to sell them. This is punishable by a maximum of one year in prison. Simple possession of the drugs is punishable only by seizure of the drug, with no penalty.

The Washington Post reported that the colorless, odorless substance is so powerful that only two or three drops in a cigarette can produce the same kick as natural marijuana.

The meeting broke up with no new talks scheduled, but officials reported that "misunderstandings that appeared to be developing" were eliminated as a result of the meeting.

This was followed by a warning from the Canadian Importers Association that shipping may be permanently diverted to the United States if the strike is not halted immediately.

Montreal Booms
A sampling of opinion in the Great Lakes ports of Ontario, opened to ocean traffic in 1959 with the completion of the seaway, showed the mood to be grave.

In Montreal, long mistrusted by shipping firms because of its militant Longshoremen's Union, the pace in the harbor was so quick that there was a shortage of dock workers to handle the 112 ships in port Thursday.

The strike involves 1,250 seaway workers who left their jobs June 21, demanding an 18 per cent pay increase. They want wages comparable with those in the United States-controlled sections of the seaway system.

Improved Coho Fishing Predicted
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Better Coho salmon fishing was predicted following windstorms which held back the fishing earlier this week on Lake Michigan, the West Michigan Tourist Association reports.

Charter boats out of Muskegon and Grand Haven were kept off the big lake for three days but began returning Wednesday. The Coho were reported from two to 10 miles off shore, depending on wind direction.
